LATEST NEWS and INFORMATION

Work continues at a brisk pace with the sorting and data collection of the many Finds Boxes held at the centre.

We estimate that we have now sorted, re – bagged, updated and catalogued approximately 200 boxes.

Three of our most important sites, The Three Mariners, Windlesham Arboretum and 19-31 High Street, Bagshot have boxes containing items of national importance so will be re-housed at the Bagshot Library for any future analysis.

We are optimistic that all boxes will have been checked and re-housed by Easter.

Those of you familiar with the centre may well be saying:

'But what about everything else?'

From Easter we intend to box the reference collection from the Pot Room, the pipe collection, coin collection and of course the items in the Main Gallery, all in readiness for the move.

The maps and site records in the Office will be moved at the same time.

At the same time we are now looking to start sorting the rooms and begin the task of discarding furniture and other non-archaeological items.

Hopefully some of the furniture will find new homes.

We will let you know when you may have the opportunity to come along and take any pieces over the next few months. These tasks will be carried out outside the specified Archaeology Sessions.

As you can see a huge amount of work is involved but we are optimistic we will complete the tasks.

We are in communication with Surrey Heath Museum, Bagshot Society and local councillors with a view to our future.

If you wish to help at any stage please do let us know, our numbers on a Monday afternoon are ever growing.

As to the future:

We fully intend to continue as an organisation and are looking forward to entering a new phase in the life of one we hope you will continue to support and enjoy!

Surrey Heath Archaeological and Heritage Trust
